TIPS FOR PARENTS

1. Give your child your full attention. Even a few minutes of undistracted conversation can mean a lot.
2. Read one story together every day. Ask, “What do you think will happen next?”
3. Talk about feelings. Ask, “What made you happy today?” or “Was anything difficult?”
4. Let your child take charge of small things. Encourage them to pack their bag, arrange their books and keep their belongings in place.
5. Notice their effort. A simple “I am proud of how hard you tried” can build lasting confidence.
6. Let them speak for themselves. Give your child time to answer questions, greet others and express their needs independently.

- 8. Make time to play. Unhurried play helps children imagine, create, solve problems and simply enjoy being children.
- 9. End the day with a warm question. “What was your favourite moment today?” can become a beautiful bedtime ritual.
